About Dr. Budgin...

Dr. Jeanne Budgin is the founder and owner of Hudson Valley Veterinary Dermatology, with office locations on the Upper West Side of Manhattan and Thornwood, NY in Westchester county.

She was awarded a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine from Iowa State University. After completing an internship in small animal medicine and surgery, she completed a post doctorate fellowship in immunodermatology, and residency training in dermatology at the University of Pennsylvania. She achieved diplomate status with the American College of Veterinary Dermatology in 2005.

Dr. Budgin has published articles pertaining to veterinary dermatology in various journals and has presented at conferences throughout the world. She had served multiple appointments the American Academy of Veterinary Dermatology (AAVD.) Other affiliations include the North American Veterinary Dermatology Forum, the World Association of Veterinary Dermatology, the World Small Animal Veterinary Association, and the American College of Veterinary Dermatology

Finally, and very passionately, Dr. Budgin is also co-coordinator of the Global Veterinary Dermatology Education Group, an independent international organization that supports, educates, and empowers veterinarians in underserved areas of the world with an interest in dermatology to lead local ongoing efforts in training and advancement.

Dr. Budgin lives in northern Manhattan with her orange tabby, Pema. Her hobbies include cooking, yoga, photography, and spending time outdoors.
